

Milan, 4th May 2026

To the attention of the UNITED KINGDOM Mathematical and Logic Championship Committee

The International Final of the 40th edition of the Championnat international des jeux mathématiques et logiques (International Championship of Logic and Mathematical Games) will take place at Bocconi University in Milan, Italy, 26 July and 27 July 2026.

Participants in the official categories (CE 6-7 y.o., CM 8-9 y.o., C1 10-11 y.o., C2 12-14 y.o., C2 15-18 y.o.) of the International Final are selected based on their results in the national selection stages, which culminate in the National Final to be held at the end of May 2026 in their respective countries.

You are able to attend the Final also in the parallel concourse in all the category.

The championship is under the responsibility of an international committee, and I represent the Italian member who will guest the International Final.

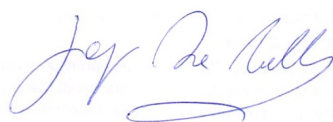

Every country is responsible for charge of accommodation, transportation and fees of registration.

A delegation of representatives of Your Country will take part in the International Final. The supervisor will be responsible for the team accommodation, food and transportation.

Your delegation is invited to Milan for the Final.

I remain at your disposal for any further request.

Best regards
